

Upcoming home- and design-related events

Published: 24 February 2012 05:50 PM

DECORATING WITH DECO MESH: Designer Billie Brandenburg introduces new frameworks and fabrics for creating indoor and outdoor spring wreaths and decor. 11 a.m. Saturday. Dallas Design Supply, 2000 N. Stemmons Freeway, Dallas. Free. 214-757-7715. dallasdesignsupply.com.

FORT WORTH HOME & GARDEN SHOW: The event will feature green energy products, home improvement products and ideas for outdoor living. 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday and 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday. Fort Worth Convention Center, 1201 Houston St., Fort Worth. $10. texashomeandgarden.com.

ANTIQUe APPRAISALS: The Dallas Woman's Forum invites you to bring your treasures to learn what they are worth in on-the-spot evaluations from Dallas-area appraisal experts. Each item's appraisal will cost $20 and you will learn its history and current value. Three items will be $50. Lectures also are on the agenda for $10. 1 to 3 p.m. March 3. Alexander Mansion, 4607 Ross Ave., Dallas. Buy tickets at the door, by phone at 214-823-4533 or at alexandermansiondallas.com.

CONTAINER STORE OPENING: The Container Store will open its seventh North Texas store in Arlington Highlands in March. Ten percent of the store's grand-opening weekend sales will go to the Junior League of Arlington. The 23,000-square-foot store, at Interstate 20 and Matlock in Arlington, opens March 3. containerstore.com.

HOW TO ACCESSORIZE: This decorating workshop will offer ideas to refresh your home with new accessories. 10 a.m. March 4. Pottery Barn locations. Free. potterybarn.com.

DECORATIVE PAINTING: Annie Sloan, the British author of 23 decorating books and creator of Annie Sloan Chalk Paint, will include a stop in the Dallas area during her eight-city American tour. Her daylong workshop will feature demonstrations and hands-on technique sessions. The workshop is open to those interested in DIY projects such as furniture makeovers and creating new looks for cabinets, floors and more with her paints and soft waxes. 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. March 16. Courtyard by Marriott at the John Q. Hammons Center, 210 E. Stacy Road and Hwy. 75, Allen. $350, includes all materials and supplies. Advance registration is required. anniesloanunfolded.com.

SPRING BREAK ART CAMPS: Oil and Cotton is offering a variety of workshops for budding artists 5 and older. The offerings include one- and two-day workshops in drawing, painting, sculpture and more. March 12 to 17. Oil and Cotton, 837 W. Seventh St., Dallas. Classes start at $40. Advance registration is required. oilandcotton.com.

Send items about craft workshops, sales and other design-related events to home@dallasnews.com at least nine days before publication.